

Senior Financial Analyst for pricing of sustainability risk

Klinkby Enge's purpose is to help price sustainability impact into assets. We are looking for a Senior Financial Analyst, who wants to be part of making that happen.

You have experience from corporate financial analysis and a strong interest in sustainable business models, analysis of unstandardized data, private market transactions and investing.

You can have a background from corporate finance, asset management, investment research, consulting or academia

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

- Sustainability data research, including assessment of financial impact of specific environmental, social and governance factors, e.g., pricing of CO2e emissions.
 - Financial modeling of sustainability impact for private market investments.
 - ESG due diligence on private market investments, supporting clients' deal-teams.
 - Market, sector and company/asset research.
 - Participate in the development of data and analysis frameworks, tools and processes.

WHAT WE OFFER

You will get the opportunity to work on projects and investments across a range of sectors located in different parts of the world.

We offer a dynamic, demanding and positive environment, with focus on the client, high quality, continuous feedback and excellent opportunities for personal development.

We believe in long-term relations with clients and team-members. We value work/life balance as a means of maintaining intellectual freshness and to attract and retain highly talented individuals, who value both an exciting career and a personal life.

We offer a competitive remuneration and opportunity for co-ownership.

YOUR BACKGROUND, EXPERIENCE AND COMPETENCIES

- 5-10+ years of experience with financial analysis, for example from corporate finance, private equity, asset management, consulting, academia or other research roles.
 - Very strong numerical and technical skills.
 - Strong understanding of business and financial markets.
 - High attention to detail, with an ability to see the “big-picture”.
 - Investigative skills.
 - Enjoys working as part of a team in a fast-paced environment.
 - Ability to meet deadlines and honor appointments.
 - Finds pleasure in helping clients and team-members succeed.
